Happy Birthday, Betty

We, the Senior Class of Hope High School, being of sound mind and good wits, declare this our last will and testament on the eighth day of May in this year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-Three.

I, Edward Anderson, will my natural red hair to Rita Book.

I, Loren Book, will the East viaduct to John Mark Rhodes.

I, Bill Scott, will the West viaduct to Arnold Plank.

I, Richard Bowline will my natural plumpness to Mary Ann Guthals.

I, Gwen Brockmeier, will my blond hair to Lowell Deines.

I, Loretta Brockmeier, will my ability to go steady with only one guy to Ardy Coup.

I, Louella Brockmeier, will my height to Marcile Gantenbein.

I, Bobby Dunlap, will my good white teeth to Marilyn Schimming.

I, Vernon Hicks, will my ability to skip school to the Jr. boys.

I, Virgil DeHoff, will my wrestling ability to Bill Baucom.

I, Rodney Hinkle, will my slowness to Joy Wuthnow.

I, Arlene Kandt, will my goodness to Nancy Altmann.

I, George Kandt, will my shyness to Carol Brunner.

I, Bill Kohman, will my Newsweek to the Sr. Class next year.

I, Betty Marten, will my ability to be late for the first hour class to JoAnn Scott.

I, Max Meuli, will my curly hair to Gail Riffel.

I, John Polok, will my boldness to Patty Klingberg.

I, Gordon Ryff, will my blue eyes to Joyce Rhodes.

We, Joe Cox and Ronnie Miller, will Joyce SinClair and Beverly Rhodes another year of "book larnin".

I, John Schlesener, will my bachelorhood to John Lay.

I, Verl Schlesener, will my athletic ability to Mike Wineteer.

I, Vivian Stammeyer, will my height and my weight to Judy Schlesener

I, Darlene Stolt, will my married life to Daveda Bergman.

I, Rollin Kohrs, will my army uniform to Don Heller.

Senior Class Prophecy

The year is 1963. The young, persuasive sales manager of Goofy Girlish Girdles is about to leave on his daily trip. Just for fun, let's ride along with Max Meuli today. He has been married for five years now. Poor Arlene Kandt is busy caring for their little brood of four. Goal-12.

Walking to the garage we pass Mrs. Darlene Stolt who is out walking her five St. Bernards. Don has been doing well, and she is now the wife of a million dollar rubber plant manager.

Arriving at the Last Chance Garage, we are met by Virgil De Hoff,owner and chief mechanic. His garage adjoins the municipal airport, where he also services planes. In fact, Edward Anderson, president of the Kansas Flying Farmers, is just coming in now. Andy has extended his miniature railroad building to a small railroad between buildings on his chicken farm.

The car is now serviced and we start on our route. At the first home, who should answer the door but Loretta Brockmeier Lietz. She and Willard have just returned from a trip to Europe. Loretta says she had a little trouble with the children on the plane, but we imagine they know who's boss. While touring in Switzerland they saw an old classmate, Richard Bowline. Seems he was vacationing after his long engagement at the "Met".

It is noon, and we are stopping now for a bite to eat. And look where we're eating----at Joe and Joyce's Cafe! Say, looks like they have really been cooking with gas! While we're waiting for our food, let's glance at the "Dispatch". Well, if it isn't a picture of Bobby Dunlap. He has been making a series of polls and found that four out of five women haters are women! Sounds interesting. Here is another item. Pastor Rodney Hinkle invites the public to attend Discussion on Wednesday evening, 8:00 p.m. The topic will be, "Is it better to have loved a short guy than never to have loved a tall?"

There goes the wolf John Schlesener down the street! He is still after the girl of his dreams. And who is she? Why Georgeous Bubbles Vivian Stammeyer, who will wrestle her ex-husband Bustle Bound Lake tonight at the Horseshoe Ring.

We better move along. The next stop is at Mme. Louella's Dress Shop. After five years of modeling on Fifth Avenue Louella Brockmeier has opened her own little shop, specializing in Goofy Girlish Girdles.

Next stop is Robert Hall's Department Store. The manager proves to be none other than Ronald Miller (although we failed to recognize him at first with that mustache). Ronnie is keeping up on his athletics; he coaches the Y. M. C. A. basketball team. And who is his attractive secretary? Why, it's Gwendolyn Brockmeier. Gwen has done a little work on her own, too. She is married to a young K-State student and living on Sunset Avenue. George Kandt, an employee in the baggage department of Robert Halls has recently bought sixty acres of land near the Kaw, and is building a little nest there. Last year he was voted one of America's ten most eligible bachelors.

Well, there goes Vernon Hicks into the recreation parlor. He is married to Bonnie Davis and has spent the last four years in the service. But he never "went across". He and that handsome Bill Scott have been spending their time in the guard house. Bill has an article in the Secret Loves column saying,"I can't help how all the girls fall for a good-looking, handsome, clean cut (bowlegged) fellow like me".

On the way out of town we pass the Turkey Roost School. The school mom, Betty Marten, is carrying a paddle in each hand and chasing a poor, helpless little lad around the school yard. Why, the little boy is Timberjack, Gordon Ryff's son. Gordon is now operating the Pumpkin Hollow Cabins down the street. There is Hot Sam, alias Bill Kohman, replacing the light fixture that Gordon's son shot out. He has had several calls to the Turkey Roost lately. Trying to start a spark between you and the school mom?

Crash? What was that? Oh gosh; we just ran into Senator Cyclone Loren Book's fender. He came back to our car and is really letting go with the wind! (That will cost you our votes, Senator.) Sheriff Weasel Verl Schlesener picks us up and hauls us in his Model T. He has really had a thriving business lately. He has taken in two persons in the last ten years! We are found guilty and for lack of cash serve the sentence. Our cell mate proves to be Slippery Slim John Polok,he has been sleeping on the park benches for his health once too often. This winter, when he is out again, John plans to thumb his way to Florida.

As we sit here in Jail and look back over the last ten years we realize how time flies. It is rather surprising what can happen to a person in such a short space of time.
